

Elder Teddy's First Coloring Book

Elder Teddy is a creation of Nephi Oliva
Illustrations by Jerrod Maruyama Illustration

Elder Teddy enjoys playing with his toys. He especially enjoys pretending to be a missionary!

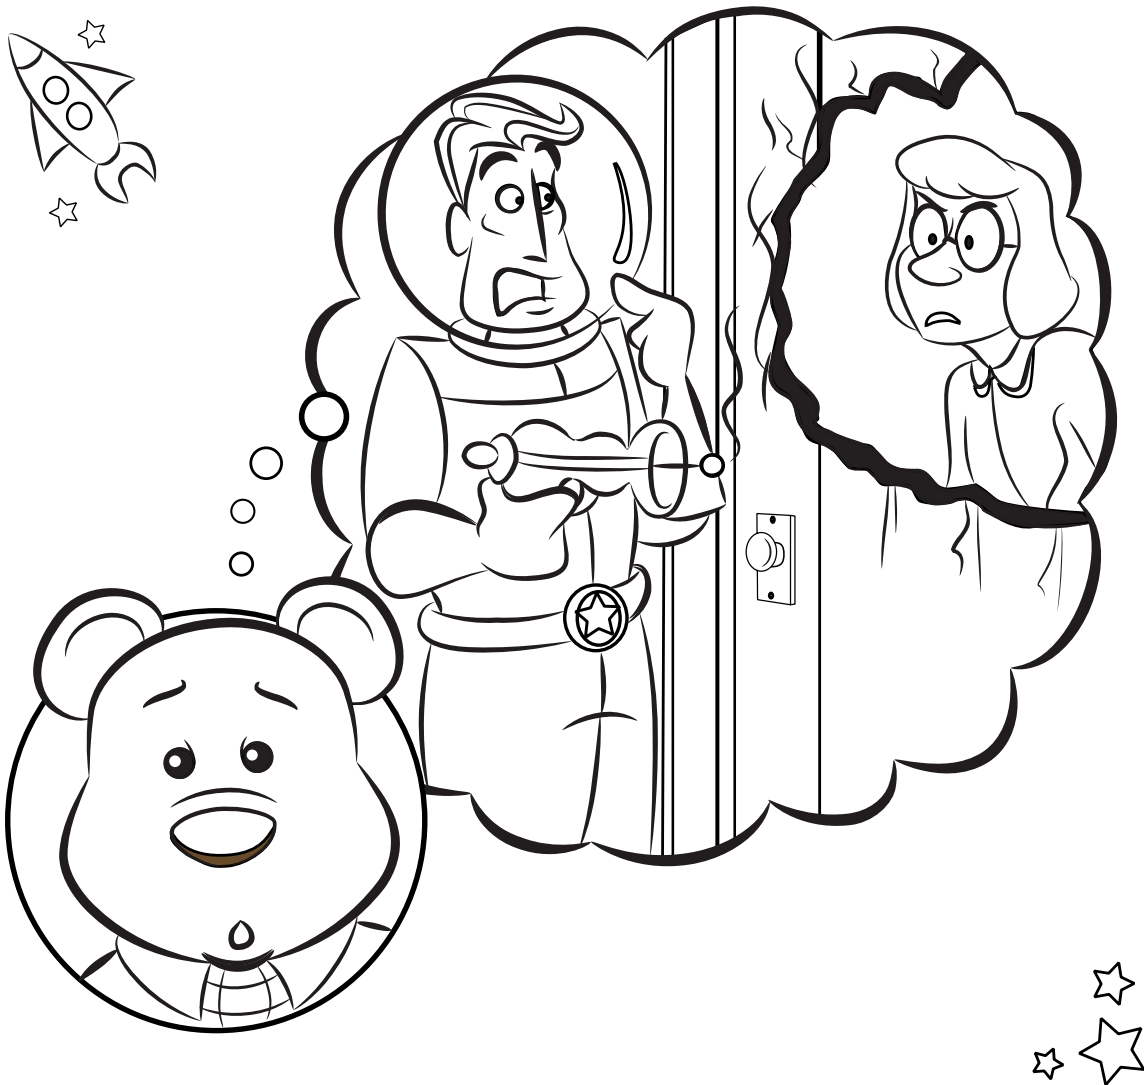

Elder Teddy has been looking forward to this day. Today he will choose his missionary companion!

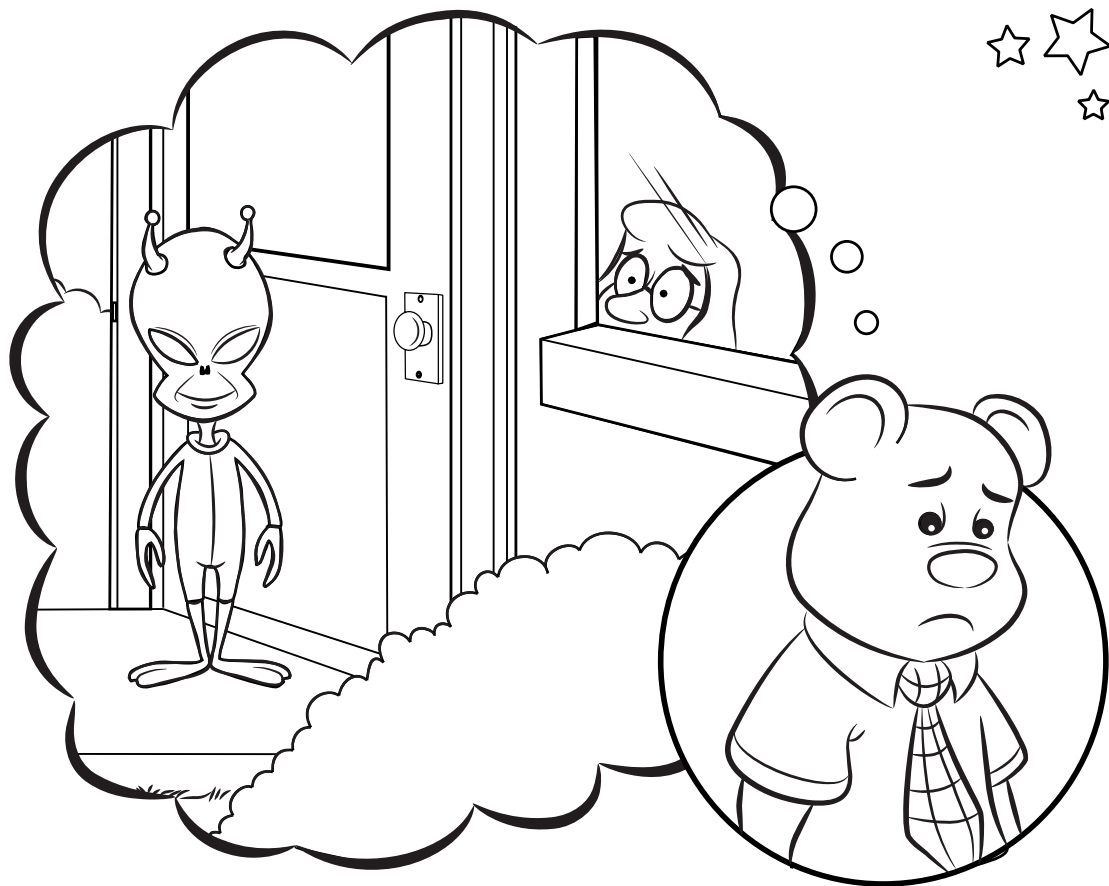

Families
✿ Are ✿ Forever

Elder Teddy thought the Space Man would be a good companion. Space men can go anywhere in the universe! But maybe his laser would damage the door!

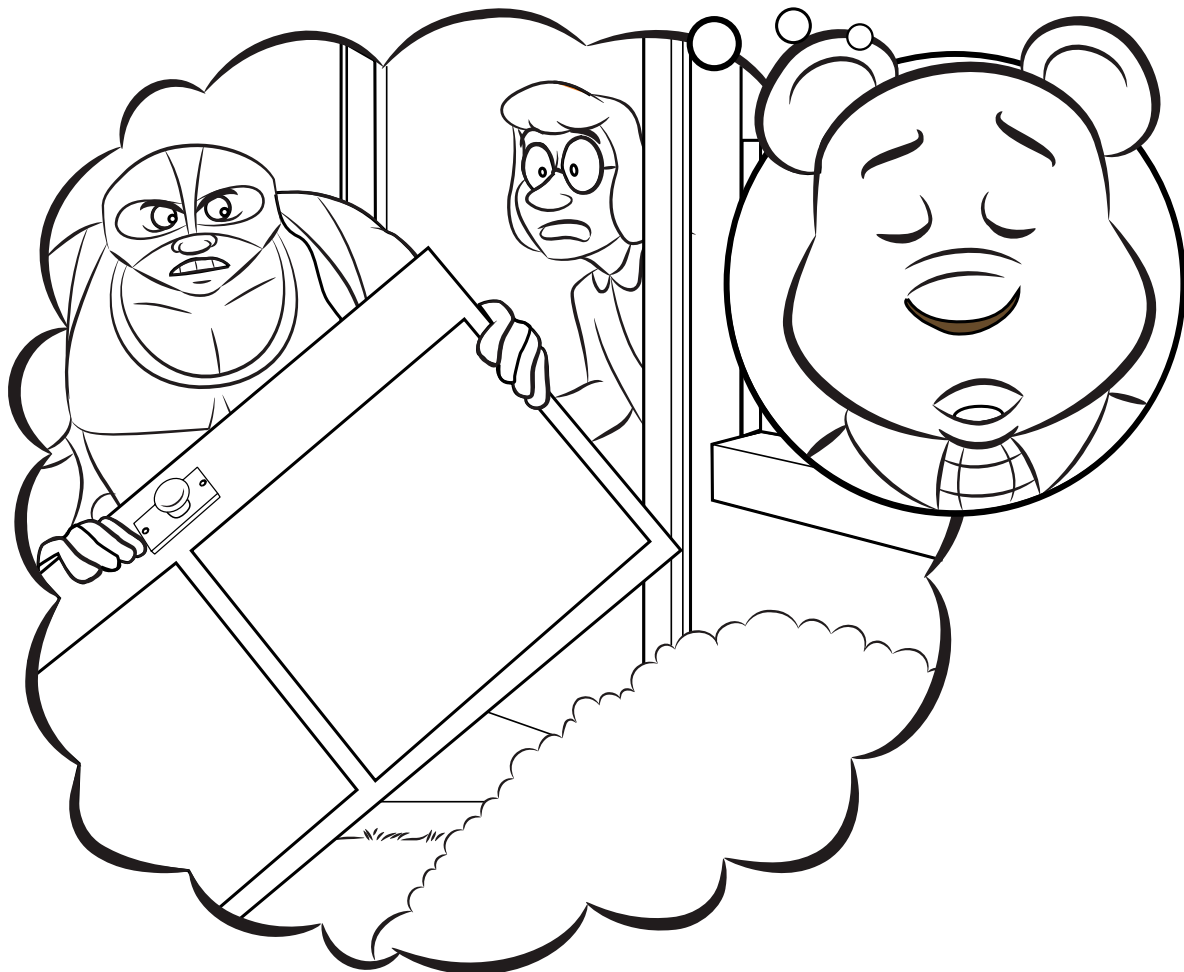

Then he thought an Alien would make a good companion. But some people are afraid of aliens, and Missionaries need to be good friends.

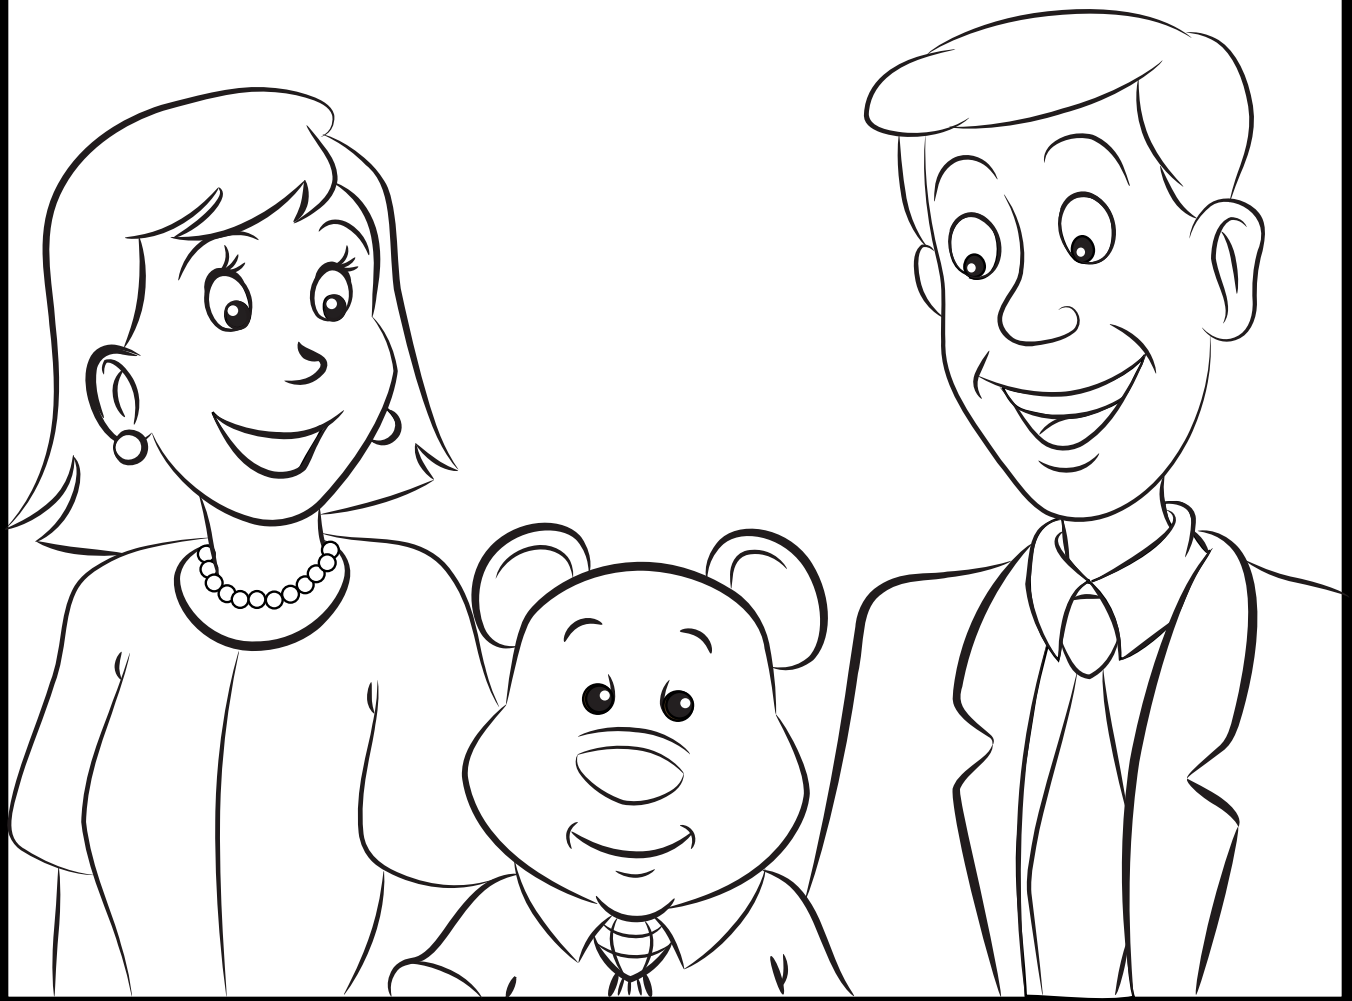

The Robot! He'd make a good companion! Robots can walk long distances, but what if he hurt someone with his metal hand?

The Wrestler might make a good companion! But, no... wrestlers are sometimes too strong, and missionaries need peace to teach the Gospel. Teddy sighed, would he ever find his companion?

Elder Teddy asked his family if they could help. Who could be his companion? Who would share his missionary adventures with him? Then his family gave him a great idea!

You! You would make a perfect companion! Just pick up Elder Teddy and ask your family to tell you a great Book of Mormon story, and you can have a great adventure, too!

